Sigler, Athens attorney, was here late Wednesday preparing an amended motion for new trial in the case of Currie Caldwell, Corsicans auto salesman recently convicted here of masked assault and given ten years in connection with the kidnaping of Robert Cerf, Corsicana bank president's son, three years ago. The ensign was run up, top side down. The Gulfland indicated understanding the signal. The men threw buckets of water over the side of the oraft as sign length uage for "we are shipping water."

Medora Gehben completed the unessage, "three women on board," by standing atop the tossing cabin and raising her arms high above her head three times.

So rough was the sea the life boat could make no contact with the Alamyth. It tossed several feet away. The sailors in it braced themselves, held out their arms and to them were hurled the three women, one at a time.

The men of the sinking craft were able to leap across the space. It was bitter cold, they gaid. Mrs. Conklin was clad only in pajamas. Miss Gehben had only a sport suit. Mrs. Franklin Kobbe was clad in a dress but had no coat.

With great difficulty the life boat was rowed back to the Gulfland, four oars breaking as waves whipped the sides.

The transfer later from the Gulfland to the cutter Thetis was almost as difficult.

Dear Sir—In reply to your letter of January 14, with reference to article published in the Dallas News of January 14, regarding who is entitled to the cash rental in the 1934 cotton contract, I am herewith quoting from a press letter of December 18, issued by Mr. Alvord, assistant to Mr. C. A. Cobb., chief. cotton division, and mailed to all county agents:
"Speaking of the division of the land rental payments, Mr. Alvord said that a landlord who has a written or verbal contract for 1934 with a managing above terms."

You will also find quoted below a paragraph from Mr. C. A. Cobb, written to a land owner in the city of Dallas, dated January 8:

If the owner retains management of the farm property and directs its operation, then he is eligible to offer a contract so far as we are concerned; Emhouse Wednesday A meeting of the farmers' training school, headed by E. a little ahead and keep the big cities from getting a grip on the state. Therefore, I favor a joint resolution to let the people vote as to whether they want to limit the number of representatives from the big cities in the House or Representatives or not. Georgia has a law limiting the number from Atlanta to six. Atlanta would control if it was not for that law. Illinois and Michigan have not redistricted in forty years because if they did Chicago in Illinois and Detroit in Michigan, would control.
